Supporting individuals, supporting Victoria

Victoria is one of the most prone regions to bushfires worldwide.

Every resident and visitor to Victoria, in every environment, has a role to play in protecting themselves and others from bushfire.

During the 2009 Victorian Bushfire Crisis, ResolutionsRTK joined the community of individuals and organisations who worked together to protect our people, communities and resources. Coordinated from our head office in Prahran, we provided trained debriefers to support affected individuals, workplaces and communities.

By all expert and official accounts, the 2010 season will be no different. While the 2009 season produced an unprecedented level of devastation and demand on our debriefing unit, the challenge for 2010 is to be prepared and ready to act.

Our clients in at risk areas and workplaces include Department of Human Services, Department of Primary Industries, Shire of Yarra Ranges, and the Emergency Telecommunications Services Authority. We are looking to increase our capacity to respond and support the Victorian community for the coming bushfire season. We hope you can help.

We are looking for qualified social workers, counsellors and psychologists, working in rural and regional Victoria. This is your chance to join a dynamic and growing body of professional associates for ResolutionsRTK.
